

XM provides a valuable service while driving into a major city. I can obtain weather and traffic conditions before I can pick up the local radio stations. This is a service I PAY for. The free radio stations have the advantage of being free. If we choose to pay for better service than we are entitled to it. XM has stuck its neck out to provide innovative services and now that it is catching on they deserve what is theirs. They have not unfairly taken anything from anybody.